

Alina Kaur

Co-Production Trustee

My Background

I have more than 17 years' operational and strategic experience in social housing, supporting some of the most vulnerable people in our communities. I established an innovative and award-winning service for victims of domestic abuse. I have led business transformation and improvement through innovation, effective strategic planning, change management, project management and co-production. I have proven experience in bringing external evidence-based approaches and implementing them into best practice.

What People Admire About Me

- My dedication and drive to improve the lives of people experiencing homelessness – in particular, those affected by domestic abuse.
- My collaborative leadership style and empathetic approach to others
- Not being afraid of a challenge that will improve client outcomes.

What I Value Most

Innovating to create opportunities which empower people to be their best and happiest self. I value our clients and strongly believe we cannot deliver an excellent client experience without creating opportunities for them to shape our services – co-production is essential if we truly want to transform lives.

How I Implement Inspire North's Values

I am delighted to have the opportunity to join Inspire North's Board as the Co-Production Trustee. Inspire North's values are the very ones on which I have built my career in social housing. I am very excited to be part of this journey.
